WIDOWED QUEEN SENDS MESSAGE

Expresses Thanks for Nation's Sympathy in Death of King.

RULERS GATHER IN LONDON

King George Addressed Messages to Army and Navy—Roosevelt's Lecture at Oxford Has Been Postponed.

London, May 10.—While the rulers and representatives of foreign nations are assembling here for the obsequies of the dead sovereign, the various necessary formalities incident to the sad event are being gradually completed. The widowed queen has sent a touching personal message to the nation, written in an unassuming style and recalling similar intimate messages which Queen Victoria was in the habit of addressing to her people.

King George has addressed messages to the navy and army expressing his thanks for their loyalty and devotion and his solicitude for the efficiency of both services. A message also has gone from the King to the Indian Prince and people expressive of his profound gratitude for their sympathy.

The Queen mother Alexandra's message to the nation was as follows:

"From the depth of my poor broken heart I wish to express to the whole nation and our kind people we love so well, my deep felt thanks for all their touching sympathy in my overwhelming sorrow and unspeakable anguish.

"Not alone have I lost everything in him, my beloved husband, but the nation, too, has suffered an irreparable loss by their best friend, father and sovereign thus suddenly called away. May God give us all his divine help to bear this heaviest of crosses, which he has seen fit to lay upon us. 'His will be done'.

"Give to me a thought in your prayers which will comfort and sustain me in all that I have to go through. Let me take this opportunity of expressing my heartfelt thanks for all the touching letters and tokens of sympathy I have received from all classes, high and low, rich and poor, which are so numerous that I fear it would be impossible for me ever to thank everybody individually.

"I confide my dear son into your care, who I know will follow in his dear father's footsteps, begging you to show him the same loyalty and devotion you showed his dear father. I know that both my dear son and daughter-in-law, will do their utmost to merit and keep it."

One of the first messages issued by King George, who has long been known as the "Sailor Prince", was addressed to the navy. In it the King says:

"It is my first wish on succeeding to the throne to make known to the navy how deeply grateful I am for its faithful and lasting services, rendered to the late King, my beloved father, who ever showed the greatest solicitude for its welfare and sufficiency.

"Educated and trained in that profession which I love so dearly, retirement from active duty has in no sense diminished my feeling of affection for it. For 33 years I had the honor of serving in the navy and such intimate participation in its life and work enables me to know how thoroughly I can depend upon that spirit of loyalty and zealous devotion to duty, of which the glorious history of our navy is the outcome. That you will ever continue to be as in the past the foremost defender of your country's honor I know full well, and your fortunes will be always followed by me with deep feelings of pride, affection and interest.

(Signed) "GEORGE R."

John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, has written to Premier Asquith, reminding him of the favorable expressions, when recently the question was raised in Parliament by the Duke of Norfolk, the foremost Catholic in England, of abolishing from the declaration which the monarch must take before a new Parliament of the ancient words, "Abjuring the church of Rome", which Mr. Redmond declares, are most offensive to all Catholics. The cabinet today decided to introduce a bill amending the declaration of the King, wherein he asserts his disbelief in the substantiation and adoration of the Virgin and Saints and that he makes declaration without mental reservation or dispensation from the Pope or other authority.

For the declaration that the foregoing doctrines and the mass "are superstitious and idolatrous", it is proposed to substitute the words "are contrary to my belief", and to omit reference to the Pope.

It was definitely announced tonight that Mr. Roosevelt's lecture at Oxford University, which was scheduled for May 18th, has been postponed.

Late tonight the body of King Edward, enclosed in an oaken casket, was transferred to the throne room of Buckingham Palace, where it rests on a catafalque covered with the same purple pall which enshrouded the coffin of Queen Victoria.

A silken royal ensign has been spread over the pall. Many floral offerings coming from abroad will be deposited in the throne room where the body will remain until its removal to Westminster hall.

NO EQUAL RIGHTS GRANTED

Committee of Revisals Votes Against Demands of Women at Methodist Conference—Favor Changing Time Limit.

Asheville, N. C., May 10.—At a meeting of the Committee on Revisals at the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, held tonight, the question of equal rights of the women with that of the laity was debated, and by a vote of 17 to 6, the committee voted against the memorial presented by the women in which they asked for equal representation with the men and will report to the conference non-concurrence. A minority report will also be presented for the women.

Today's session was marked by an absence of debate on any of the vital questions which are before the body. The Vanderbilt University matter was not mentioned.

Tomorrow the Committee on Itinerancy will bring in a report relative to the time limit. It is thought that the majority of the committee is in favor of changing the law, which now allows a minister to remain in his charge for four years only. Many in the conference are in favor of abolishing the limit entirely, each congregation with the consent of the bishop to retain its pastor so long as he is satisfactory to the annual conference and his congregation.

Dr. W. F. McMurray and Dr. A. L. Andrews, two of the delegates, who were reported last night to have had a personal encounter in connection with the election of bishops at the conference issued denials of trouble between them. Dr. McMurray declared the reports were an outrage to the principals and the entire conference while Dr. Andrews stated that the parties interested were never on more friendly terms.

There was considerable discussion on the question of an assessment of two and a half cents per member for the erection of a representative Southern Methodist church in Washington, D. C., to cost about $500,000. The convention finally endorsed this project by resolution, but left the method of raising the assessment to the discretion of the Board of Church Extension.

A majority and minority report was submitted by the Committee on Temperance in reference to the use of tobacco by ministers. Both were referred to the calendar.

The committee on Federation reported that no plans are being considered for the union of the three bodies of German Methodists in Texas and that such union was not expedient.

A resolution empowering church trustees to mortgage church property was concurred in and passed by the conference.

By a vote of 13 to 6 the Appeals Committee of the general conference at a session held today sustained the decision of the South Carolina conference which recently expelled the Rev. C. W. Creighton, of Greenwood, S. C., from the ministry of the church on a charge of disloyalty. This action of the general conference committee is final.

The charges against the deposed minister grew out of his publication of a paper in Greenwood known as the Christian Appeal in which were antagonistic articles relating to church matters.

MOST DISTRESSING TRAGEDY

In Fit of Temporary Aberration, Mrs. Virginia McDiarmid, of Lumberton, Threw Herself From Roof of Sanitarium.

Charlotte, N. C., May 10.—Mrs. Virginia P. McDiarmid, 55 years old, of Lumberton, N. C., in a fit of temporary mental aberration this afternoon, flung herself from the roof of a local sanitarium to the pavement, 60 feet below, meeting instant death. Mrs. McDiarmid had been a patient at the institution for six weeks.

With other patients and nurses, Mrs. McDiarmid was on the roof garden of the hospital and while the nurses' attention was directed elsewhere, she climbed a three foot railing and precipitated herself from the building. She was to have left the hospital tomorrow morning for her home and her son was here to accompany here. She was prominent socially.

Lumberton, N. C., May 10.—The distressing information of the death of Mrs. McDiarmid was received here this evening. It occurred at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in Charlotte, whither she had gone some weeks ago for treatment.

Mrs. McDiarmid was the widow of the late W. W. McDiarmid, for many years publisher of the Robesonian. She is survived by one son, Mr. T. N. McDiarmid, who was with her when the end came; one brother, Mr. O. C. Norment, and one sister, Mrs Ann Eliza Higley. The remains will be brought to Lumberton in the morning. Mrs. McDiarmid was a most estimable woman, loved wherever she was known, a consecrated Christian and her life had been one of deep piety and devotion to her family and friends. The tragedy has cast a gloom over the entire county.

GOOD ROADS MEETIING.

Rural Letter Carriers in Nash, Edgecombe and Wilson to Assemble.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., May 10.—A committee from the organization of rural letter carriers for Nash, Edgecombe and Wilson counties are making preparations for the holding of a big good roads meeting in this city on May 30th. It is the plans of the committee to give a barbecue dinner and there will be a number of speakers from the letter carriers over the State as well as persons prominent in securing better roads. The meeting will no doubt be held at some point within several miles of the city that is easily accessible to the farmers over the two counties as the meeting is being arranged largely in hopes of securing the aid and support of these citizens. It is understood that the State will be asked to furnish one of the speakers.

JOHN C. DAVIS ON TRIAL.

Charged With Obtaining $200,000 by False Representations.

Washington, May 9.—John C. Davis, the member of the local bar who was arrested last Summer, charged with having obtained more than $200,000 from investors by false representations, and with having misapplied the funds, was placed on trial in Criminal Court No. 2 this afternoon, charged with the specific embezzlement of about $12,000. Among Davis' alleged victims were residents of this city and Alexandria, Va.

The afternoon was spent in selecting a jury. The trial will last this week and probably part of next week.

FLORIDA PRIMARY HELD YESTERDAY

Senator Taliafero Has Probably Failed of a Renomination.

SECOND CONTEST NECESSARY

Governor Broward a Close Second—Three Congressmen Are Returned—County Elections Were Overshadowed—Notes.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 10.—Incomplete returns tonight indicate that United States Senator Taliaferro failed of re-nomination in today's Democratic primary election, although he is leading former Governor Napoleon B. Broward by nearly 1,000 votes. The third candidate for the Senatorial nomination, Claude L'Engle, is running far behind. A second primary to decide between Senator Taliaferro and Broward, will be necessary.

Congressman Clark is re-nominated in the second district and Congressman Mays in the third, has a safe lead over his competitor, J. F. C. Griggs. In the first district Congressman Sparkman had no opposition.

Although the election today was for the State and county officers the fight for the United States Senate overshadowed every other contest. Only about one-fifth of the vote had been reported at 11 o'clock tonight.

TWENTIETH AT CHARLOTTE.

Great Meet of Automobilists—At Fair Grounds—Ball.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Charlotte, N. C., May 10.—President Taft will not come to Charlotte this year, but there will be a great celebration of the 20th of May just the same. The Greater Charlotte Club, the Charlotte Drum & Bugle Corps, and local automobile owners are vigorously pushing plans for a novel celebration in the form of "Automobile Day", when auto owners from all over the Piedmont section of the two Carolinas are asked to bring their cars to Charlotte and take part in the festivities.

In the morning of the 20th at 11 o'clock there will be an elaborate industrial and floral parade. More than 100 local automobiles were entered for this event the first day and it is confidently expected that the number of entries from other cities and towns and others here will make the total not less than 400.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock at the fair grounds a series of novelty and speed races will be pulled off, including some spectacular features that have never before been put on in either State. There will be between 60 and 80 entries for this event, which will be fast and furious, being over in time to allow the crowd to attend the baseball game at 4:30 o'clock.

The night of the 20th there will be a grand ball at Lakewood Park with a large orchestra, a display of fireworks and a wrestling match at the Charlotte Auditorium.

The announcement of the plans for the celebration has stirred up a fine degree of enthusiasm in the city and section and a great day is being looked forward to.

TAFT'S RAILROAD BILL IS PASSED

Measure Goes Through House Carrying Commerce Court Feature.

REPUBLICANS VOTED SOLID

President Deeply Gratified Over Passage of the Measure—Senate Will Take Final Action—Democrats Against It.

Washington, May 10.—Without a single dissenting Republican vote the House today passed the railroad bill, one of the chief measures that President Taft wished enacted at the present session of Congress.

Not only did every Republican place himself on the side of the measure, either by his vote or being paired on its favor, but fourteen Democrats joined the majority to make the total vote in favor of the measure 200 to 126. President Taft tonight said he was deeply pleased with the comfortable margin by which the commerce court feature was kept in the bill, for he regards this court as probably the most important forward step in the proposed law.

As to the amendments and additional provisions added in the House, the President said he did not feel that this was the time to discuss them nor that he was fully enough acquainted with the changes to discuss them. Referring to the clause providing for the physical valuation of railroads, Mr. Taft pointed out that the power practically now rests at the Interstate oCmmerce Commission and that the difficulty in carrying out such a plan always has been found in the enormous cost of the undertaking.

Commerce Court Feature.

When all the amendments adopted by the House while in committee of the whole had been agreed to, Mr. Adamson, of Georgia, senior Democratic member of the minority on the committee reported the bill, moved to re-commit it to the committee with instructions that it be reported back with the commerce court clause stricken out. This motion was defeated 157 to 176.

The bill makes many changes in the existing law that, if accepted by the Senate, will greatly affect interstate commerce. The court of commerce is created to adjudicate cases on appeal from the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is provided that this court shall be organized by the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, future appointments to membership on the court to be made by them.

Stock and bond issues of railroads are controlled by the bill. Under this clause a railroad before issuing any additional stock, must obtain an order from the commission which must, among other things, fix the price at which the securities of the road may be sold. A similar provision is carried in respect to railroads which are organized through the courts. A provision is made that upon the re-organization of a railroad through court proceedings stocks and bonds cannot be issued for more than a fair value of the property.

Long and Short Haul Phase.

The long and short haul clause of the measure provides that a railroad cannot without first gaining permission charge more for a short than for a long haul over the same line.

The Interstate Commerce Commission also is given authority whenever a new rate is proposed to suspend the taking effect of that rate for a period of four months so that the commission shall have an opportunity to consider its reasonableness.

As amended the bill proposes to bring the telephone and telegraph companies under the control of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It provides for the valuation of railroad properties as an aid to the Commission in the consideration of railroad rates.

The bill gives to the Commission authority over classification, regulations and practices of railroads, authority at the present time being limited to rates and matters affecting rates.

Under its terms a railroad company must quote a freight rate accurately upon demand of a shipper and the shipper is given the right to route his freight whenever it passes over more than one railroad. The Commission itself is authorized to establish through routes by combining different railroad systems at its discretion whereas under the present law it cannot make a through route if such a route is already established.

Severe penalties are provided against shippers who, through false claims for damages or loss of property, obtain secret rebates.

Opposition of Democrats.

Champ Clark, leader of the Democratic minority, explaining the Democratic course in opposing the bill on final vote, said:

"The Democrats who voted against the bill did so because they considered that there were more bad features in the bill than there were good ones. When it was first brought into the House, it was a railroad bill, pure and simple. It was drawn in their interests. Not a railroad lobbyist appeared around the halls of Congress in opposition to this bill, which speaks more eloquently than many volumes could do that the railroads were in favor of this legislation.

Every amendment that was adopted in the House helped the bill but there were not enough of them. Had the Court of Commerce feature and some parts of sections 13, 14 and 15 been stricken out I would have voted for the bill."

Continuing the consideration of the railroad bill the Senate today heard arguments by Senator Bristow in support of the Dixon amendment, prohibiting a greater charge for short than for long hauls on the railroads, and by Senators Lodge and Piles against it. There were many interruptions and much sharp colloquy.

Towards the close of the session a resolution authorizing an investigation into alleged abuses of the franking privilege was adopted.

Both branches will be in session tomorrow, the House meeting at 11 o'clock to take up the Sundry Civil appropriation bill.

ROOSEVELTS WITH GERMAN ROYALTY

Emperor William Welcomes Americans to Palace at Berlin.

COLONEL UNDER A PHYSICIAN

His Throat Examined by a Specialist Yesterday—Sham Battle in Which 12,000 Will Participate Arranged.

Berlin, May 10.—Theodore Roosevelt and Emperor William had their first long conversation today after luncheon at Potsdam. Standing apart from the other guests they talked earnestly together for more than an hour. The Emperor's welcome to the former President was exceedingly cordial.

Wearing the white and gold uniform of the Garde Du Corps, with brazen helmet surmounted by a silver eagle with outspread wings, the Emperor appeared at the entrance of the New Palace on the arrival of the carriages which brought Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel and Kermit to the palace gates. His majesty advanced quickly and shook hands warmly with each one of them. Later he presented his guests to the Empress and the entire party sat down to luncheon at six tables. His Majesty had Mrs. Roosevelt at his left and Mr. Roosevelt was seated between the Empress and the Crown Prince.

A regrettable incident occurred on the arrival of the Roosevelt party at Berlin from Stockholm this morning, when the royal carriages intended for their use failed to reach the station in time, and Ambassador Hill was missing from among the officials, who had gathered to greet the ex-President. This was due to a misunderstanding regarding the arrival of the special train. The Roosevelts drove to the American embassy and shortly afterward Col. Roosevelt kept an appointment with Prof. Fraenkel, a throat specialist, who made a casual examination.

At Potsdam the Emperor and Empress treated their American guests with great cordiality, engaging them in prolonged conversation with other members of the royal family, before lunch. The Emperor after the other guests had gone, showed Col. Roosevelt and his family through the Sans Souci Palace himself.

The Emperor has arranged for a sham battle for tomorrow in which 12,000 men of all arms will take part. It is somewhat doubtful, however, if Col. Roosevelt can attend, as he is observing the utmost care, so that he will be able to deliver his lecture before the University on Thursday.

Prof. Fraenkel will make another examination of his throat tomorrow morning, and will then decide whether or not it will be advisable for the ex-President to visit the battlefield.

Without making any definite statement regarding the condition in which he found Col. Roosevelt's throat the physician explained that laryngitis often followed a long residence in the tropics and that in his opinion the hoarseness in this case is not due to the strain of speaking. Col. Roosevelt, he thinks, should be entirely recovered in a week.

No word has yet come to Col. Roosevelt regarding the possibility of his being named as special envoy to the funeral of the late King Edward.

BAPTISTS IN BALTIMORE.

Gather to Attend Southern Convention Which Begins Today.

Baltimore, May 10.—More than 2,500 delegates are here to attend the Southern Baptist convention which will begin its sessions at the Lyric tomorrow afternoon and continue until next Monday. Joshua Levering, of Baltimore, is president of the convention and it was authoritatively stated that he will be re-elected to that office tomorrow.

Having no legislative authority the convention will simply approve or disapprove questions, but it will probably take a stand on the liquor and other important issues. It will be asked to approve requests for about $1,350,000 for various works of the denomination. St. Joseph, Mo., Fort Worth and other Texas cities and Jacksonville, Fla., are in the contest for securing the next convention.

SOUTH'S TRIBUTE TO HONORED DEAD

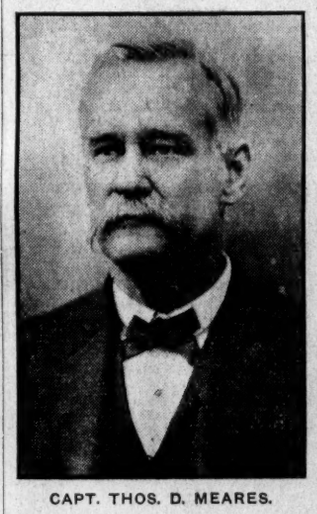
Confederate Memorial Day Generally Observed Throughout Dixieland.

EXERCISES IN WILMINGTON

Beautiful Services Under Auspices of Daughters of the Confederacy—Thomas D. Meares, Esq., the Orator—In the State.

Throughout the Southland tender and loving tribute was paid yesterday to the memory of the Confederate dead. In Wilmington the day was observed by a practical suspension of all business during the afternoon, while appropriate and most impressive Memorial Day exercises were held under the auspices of Cape Fear Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, in beautiful Oakdale cemetery, these having been participated in by the allied Confederate and Military organizations of the city and the people of Wilmington generally.

The weather conditions locally were ideal, the Daughters had been most fortunate in their choice of an orator and nothing occurred to mar the perfect success of an altogether lovely day. Promptly at 4:30 o'clock the procession of the Daughters, Children of the Confederacy, Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Wilmington Light Infantry, Boys' Brigade and citizens formed at the lodge in the beautiful cemetery and proceeded in a body to the Confederate lot, where open ranks were formed and the Daughters, Children of the Confederacy and veterans passed through to seats improvised at the base of the Confederate monument, commanding a view of the shaft, which was appropriately draped with Confederate flags and native mosses and bedecked with beautiful flowers, and the speaker's stand, which was also appropriately decorated by the ladies. The veterans were in charge of Commander James I. Metts; the W. L. I. under command of Capt. Edwin A. Metts and the Boys' Brigade in command of Capt. Francis Garrison. Dr. A. M. Baldwin, a gallant Confederate soldier, was chief marshal of the procession and served most admirably as master of ceremonies. The music was directed by Mr E. H. Munson and was led by a select quartette composed of Messrs. A. S. Holden, Greene Fenley, J. B. Fenley, W. A. McGirt, with cornet accompaniment by Mr. Ed Craft. After an opening number by the quartette, the Rev. J. H. Foster, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church and chaplain of the exercises, offered a fervent prayer, which was followed by the singing of the favorite hymn of President Jefferson Davis, "How Firm a Foundation" by the choir.



CAPT. THOS. D. MEARES.

Dr. Baldwin, in most graceful speech, introduced the orator of the day, Capt. Thos. D. Meares, a fellow comrade whom it was a delight for him to present. Capt. Meares spoke for not exceeding twenty minutes but his was an eloquent, tender and beautiful tribute to the Old South and a very forcible presentation of some lessons gathered from a melancholy but not an unhonored past. Mr. Meares was given the closest attention of his audience and not infrequent applause greeted his remarks. The address was remarked upon by many as one of the most thoughtful, appropriate and most eloquent heard upon a similar occasion in many years.

Mr. Meares' Address.

Addressing his audience which gathered about the enclosure with bared heads, Mr. Meares said:

Daughters of the Confederacy, Comrades, Friends:

When I think of the many gatherings around this hallowed spot, when I recall the beautiful and splendid tributes to the Confederate soldier, and to the no less heroic women of the South, couched in eloquent language by gifted orators, it seems very presumptuous for me to even attempt to add one word to the meed of praise which has been annually rendered without a lapse for so many years. But who, having known the deathless devotion of these daughters of a Lost Cause, who, having witnessed the untiring spirit, knowing no shadow of deviation, which causes them to

SAILORS AGAINST WHALERS

Local Baseball Squad Practicing Every Afternoon—Many Fans Attend—Some Improvement in Work of Boys.

The 22 baseball players who are trying for positions on the Wilmington team in the East Carolina Association are practicing at League Park every afternoon. Many fans go out to the grounds to pass judgment on the players, who show decided improvement since Saturday's game with the Atlantic Coast Line. The players have been divided into two groups, the Sailors and the Whalers, and there was an interesting contest between the teams yesterday afternoon, the Whalers winning by a small margin.

Batteries: Hawkins and Hudson for the Sailors and Foltz and Harris for the Whalers. Both Hawkins and Foltz show evidences of good pitchers and Harris and Hudson behind the bat are working well. The outfield of the Sailor team was composed of Doak, Riley and Holler, who look mighty good and fast to the fans. The Whalers' outfield was also complete with Hearne, Lucas and Red Wilson. For infielders the Sailors had Brothers, Burke, Hyames and Guerrant, and they showed some fast work at times. Guerant made his first appearance this season yesterday afternoon and was given the glad hand. The Whalers' had as infielders Woodson, Leach, Roberts and Pardon, who worked well together and pulled off several splendid plays. Skipper Kite is wearing a pleasant smile as he sees the good work being done by the players.

Some of the crew are not finding the water agreeable to their systems, but as soon as they get acclimated to their new surroundings they will go some, as the saying goes. Sailors Kelly and Ebinger are Bugs and the way they can go around the lot three times is worth going out to the park to see. Skipper Kite is working the bunch some and invites the fans to go out and see the practices, in the morning at 9 o'clock and in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The players show great improvement since Saturday's game with the Coast Line and the team from the Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, will have to play some to take the games Friday and Saturday. Mr. J. R. Davis, official umpire, will handle the indicator for the two games. Owner Smith promises exerything to be in League ball shape for the games Friday and Saturday. The games will be called at 4 P. M. and the admission will be 25 cents. There will be ample car service.

GOLDSBORO TEAM.

Baseball Players Arrive En Bloc From New York.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., May 10.—On the night train Saturday the major number of the players for the Goldsboro club in the Eastern Carolina League passed through this city from New York en route to Goldsboro for a two weeks practice before the opening game on Monday, May 23rd. The men traveled on a block ticket from New York and there were 13 in the number, being routed via the boat to Norfolk from which place they were handled by train to Goldsboro. The team will be captained this year by Kelley, who played second base last season for this club, and he is slated to hold this corner again this year, though there is some little probability of his being shifted to the shortfield. Mr. Kelley made one of the 13 players on the block ticket, and with him were traveling his wife and child who will make their home in Goldsboro during the season. It is understood that the Giants will have about 18 men report for the try-out season.

The men and the positions for which they are going to try along with their Winter homes are: Manager Kelley, second base, New York; A. J. Kaiser, Bronx, New York, a first baseman; Alfred Sullivan, Lake George, N. Y., an outfielder and general utility man; L. J. Murray from an Elmira, N. Y., school, his home in Pennsylvania, who will try for the position of pitcher. He is a brother of Jack Murray of the New York Nationals; E. B. Dove, Brooklyn, N. Y., a catcher; Leo Groom, Brooklyn, N. Y., a pitcher; Joe Malcom, New York, shortstop; Mr. Larry Wolfe, Kingstown, N. Y., outfielder and pitcher. Mr. Wolfe saw service last season with the independent team of Elizabeth, N. J., and is known to be a good man. Jim Fenere, Brooklyn, N. Y., an outfielder, preferably center; Bill Irwin, Susquehana, Pa., an outfielder. This player last year finished the season with Chimoken, Pa., club.

assemble here in each recurring month of flowers to do honor to the ashes of heroes, whose gallantry has never been surpassed by the soldiery of any clime or country, could refuse any request made by them, or not feel himself exalted in the opportunity to respond to their slightest call for service.

With what grace I may, therefore, I speak to you upon a subject, which fade as it may in the minds of those to whom it has become only a part of the world's history, remains forever bright in the memories of those who were proud actors in those days of stress and struggle, and in whose hearts there is no forgetfulness of time or men. For to those who lived in that past period, ever growing more and more distant, the subject is forever fresh and new, and it delights them still to mind them of the day when this continent shook beneath the mighty tread of battling armies, and the souls of men were tried in crucibles which damned or glorified their conduct as it were not therefore exclusively responsible for its inception, for its certain occurrence grew out of a long existing antagonism, which natural, or justifiable, or otherwise, led steadily to one conclusion. And recognizing this fact, we can the more readily perceive how a better understanding and a kindlier feeling has grown constantly and strongly between those who once stood opposed to each other in deadly array, and how, without surrender of any conviction, it has become possible to comprehend the view point of former adversaries and to yield respect and admiration to those who were willing to make the supreme sacrifice in defence of that which they believed to be right.

Of the aspects of the struggle itself, we know now as undeniable facts what we then thought in our hearts, that never was such an army put into the field, never was such success won in the face of apparently insurmountable obstacles, never was suffering endured with such resolution, never did a people sustain defeat with more fortitude, never did men and women, with an entire system of business wiped at one fell stroke out of existence, property destroyed, incomes suddenly and completely cut off, means of livelihood obliterated, meet the untoward conditions with more bravery or determination, or grasp more quickly the flower of hope from the nettle of despair. And yet it was not to be wondered at. The men who had come home to desolated hearths, to face poverty and starvation, to start again where they had as boys commenced the struggle of life, were the same who for four long years held back from our soil, an army, superior in numbers, well fed, and clothed, supplied with all the accoutrements of war, possessed of every equipment necessary to success, and yet not attaining it because opposed to it stood that attenuated line of grey, which buckle as it might beneath the weight of hosts of foemen, sprung ever back to its true line and knew no breaking. The men who formed it, unsurpassable in courage and determination, came home to fight harder battles, to face deeper trials, to stand again in the front line against worse evils than warfare, and to conquer them all.

The South today is flourishing and prosperous. Through its length and breadth, the hum of busy machinery thrills the air with the song of success. Its teeming fields are yielding their increase more and more abundantly—its merchants are extending its trade and marketing its products in every land—its public schools are crowded with youth whose acquisition of knowledge will still further accelerate the march of progress, and because there is no class of the extremely rich, with an ever widening chasm between them and the mass growing poorer, the employer and the laborer are alike satisfied and content.

But it is not a new South—born of the coercion of necessity—a creature of dread and unavoidable circumstance. The result of the war was merely to expand the scope of its activities—to broaden into new avenues its inherent energy and endeavor. It is the same South today that even it was, and it never was a laggard in the paths which lead to higher and truer development. Its people were never the idle, enervated, pleasure seeking race that it has delighted some to picture them. In measuring the consequences that have followed upon that great combat, unsuccessful as we deemed it, let us be mindful of the fact that, long anterior to its commencement, our fathers had planned and in part executed a system of railway and other transportation, the magnitude of which was relatively greater than any we have since known, that public schools and public education were intelligently and carefully provided for, that methods of internal improvement, as were then termed the schemes of development of our large and varied resources, were adopted and carried to successful completion that remunerative agriculture was not an unknown science, that the South was no stranger to mechanical arts and manufactures, that good roads had been constructed and were in practical and constant use, that desirable immigration was encouraged, and, in short, that in every highway of progressive life, educational, agricultral, commercial, the South was well in the van. In one particular only do we seem to have been lacking—the spirit of boastfulness. What the South then did was without ostentation—without parade of its virtues and its merits—but done the less effectively and well, because mainly done in discharge of its duty to its own self. Time and occasion forbid more than the barest reference to these well known facts, but no time can be inopportune nor place inappropriate to remind this younger generation that whatever of enterprise and energy and activity and progress is claimed by or attributed to what is called the New South is but the amplification of the work and the purposes of their ancestors.

Perhaps I have dwelt very lightly upon the horrors of that great war, and upon the evil days that rode in its train. Why do so at all, may be asked? Why recall the past, and paint again the distress and trouble and desolation of that period? Because out of the pages of history must we glean the knowledge which is to betide us in meeting the storms of the future, and it is meet and proper that the young minds that hear or read these words may learn of the fortitude and self-denial and accomplishments of those who lived before them, and in their turn, be prepared, when occasion requires, to practice them. In the minds of many thinking men, this country is in the incipiency of a struggle, the just and complete settlement of which will demand that all the fortitude of our fathers, all the determination that nerved them in their struggles, all the self-abnegation which directed their thought and labors, shall be reproduced in us, if we are to get back to the simpler life, where honor is more than money, where immorality shall not be sacrificed in words of condoning courtesy, and where dishonesty will not receive the plaudits of men on account of the magnitude of its transactions, but rather meet the severer condemnation. It is for this younger generation, remembering and proudly remembering, the glorious heritage which is theirs, to stand in the front rank of the fight that is now commencing for civic righteousness, for honest government, for obedience to moral as well as statutory law, for public as well as private integrity, and to repel from your country, as you would a plague, the commercialism which measures every virtue by the estimate of Bradstreet, and knows no form of wrong doing that the mantle of material prosperity can not completely cover. You young men may not have to stand in battle array against any invaders of your country's soil, you may not have to bare your breasts to the storm of battle, to shot and to shell, to charge on bristling bayonets, to gaze on writhing forms and bloody death in ghastly guise, but you can

RUNAWAY AT WASHINGTON.

Editor Mayo and Wife Seriously Injured—Tobacco Market.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., May 10.—A very serious and almost fatal runaway took place on the streets of this city yesterday afternoon, when Mr. J. L. Mayo, editor of the local paper accompanied by his wife and two small children, were driving down East Second street, the horse suddenly became frightened at an automobile, and started to run at a rapid pace soon becoming unmanagable, dashed around a corner throwing all the occupants out of the vehicle and overturning it. Mr. Mayo was thrown violently against a tree knocking him senseless, cutting a deep gash in his face and breaking a rib. His wife was also thrown heavily to the ground and rendered unconscious, sustaining it is feared internal injuries. Dr. J. L. Nicholson was hastily summoned and found the above mentioned injuries. Mr. Mayo soon recovered consciousness but for several hours his wife was in a camatose condition. The children by some miraculous manner escaped injury. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mayo are confined at their home today as a result of their injuries but their physician thinks their condition more favorable today.

Washington's tobacco market is now an assured fact. All the necessary arrangements have been perfected, a site selected and the work of erecting a large warehouse will begin it is understood within a short while.

SCHOONER AT ROCKY POINT.

Largest Vessel to Go That Distance Up Northeast—Crops.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., May 10.—The good ship Annie F. Kimball, Capt. Southard, reached Greater Rocky Point last week and is loading lumber for William Perry at J. T. Armstrong's pier. She is decidedly the largest vessel that ever moored at our wharves and will carry a considerable cargo to New York.

The outlook for good stands of corn and cotton is the best for years. The bud worm that scourge off the farm is not doing much harm yet. Peanuts are coming up.

The peach, pear and plum crops are record breakers judging from the present outlook. I saw last week one foot of plum that contained 36 large plums, of the abundance variety. The Burbank plum beats it somewhat, having 54 plums to the running foot.

CHANGE AT FORT CASWELL.

Lieut. Edwards to Relieve Lieut. McCleary—U. S. A.

(News and Observer.)

Washington, D. C., May 9.—First Lieut. Robt. O. Edwards, Coast Artillery Corps, in addition to his other duties, will assume charge of the construction work at Fort Caswell, relieving First Lieut. Wm. R. McCleary, coast artillery corps.

FOR THE THIN AND SCRAWNY.

Samose Will Make you Plump and Rosy, Says J. Hicks Bunting.

If you are getting thin, you are sick, although you may not know it. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that needs looking after. If you have always been thin it doesn't follow that you are sick, but you may not be healthy. You cannot be strong if you are thin.

The only way to increase the weight and gain health and flesh is by using Samose, the standard flesh forming food and tissue builder. It mingles with the food you eat and is assimilated so that all the flesh forming and tissue building elements of the food are retained in the system. This explains the great value of Samose.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. sells every package on a genuine guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

SPEAKER GRAHAM ANNOUNCES.

Further Complication in Commissioners' Race—News at Raleigh.

(Special Star correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 10.—A political "kink" in Democratic circles developed today in the announcement over the signature of 86 friends of the candidacy of Hon. A. W. Graham, speaker of the House of Representatives, for the Central Carolina place on the Corporation Commission recently vacated by the death of Hon. B. F. Aycock and filled by Gov. Kitchin through the appointment of H. C. Brown. In announcing his candidacy Judge Graham takes it for granted that Mr. Brown will stand for the western nomination in the State convention, the place he was running for at the time that he received the central nomination by the Governor. However, it is positively stated by the friends of Mr. Brown that he will in reality make the fight in the convention to succeed himself. That is, he will stand for the central commissionership, this being the unfinished term of Mr. Aycock, which is four instead of six years.

An order has been issued by Adjutant General Armfield giving the permission of the State of North Carolina for the military forces of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi to pass through North Carolina fully armed and equiped, en route to Chickamauga for the maneuvres with the regular army.

State Auditor Dixon went to Fayetteville today to deliver the address for the Memorial Day celebration there

United States Marshal Claudius Dockery has gone to New York to testify in the prosecution of Peter Lieberman for false pretense in bankruptcy proceedings in the case of Greenburg, the New York clothier who is now serving a term in the Federal prison at Atlanta for fraudulently shipping large quantities of clothing out of New York to defraud creditors. One shipment came to Ike Seligson, of Raleigh, where it was seized and finally deleased on payment of $1,300 by Seligson. Arthur Hicks, Southern Railway freight agent here, also went to New York to testify.

ROCKY POINT TRUCKING.

Over 35 Cars of Berries—Beans and Potatoes Coming On.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., May 10.—The strawberry season here is fast drawing to a close. S. B. Dawnes & Co., of New York, have handled the bulk of the shipments, 35 solid cars, and some local lots by express. Everybody is well pleased with the way the goods were handled, in fact, most of the shippers don't hesitate to say that their average sales far exceed those of other houses that they shiped. Mr. J. R. Phillips, of this firm, was here from the beginning, directing the loading, and did not have a single car to go in in bad condition. He will stay here until the movement of beans and potatoes is over, and says he expects to load from 25 to 30 cars of potatoes here and at the St. Helena Colony of the Carolina Trucking Development Co. Messrs Pearsall & Bloodworth, local agents for this firm, are hustlers from the word go, and say they will be loading carlots of beans next week and potatoes a little later.

FIFTH DISTRICT CALL.

Congressional Convention in Greensboro, N. C., on July 5th.

Greensboro, May 10.—At a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of the Fifth Congressional District here Saturday afternoon, Greensboro was selected as the place, and July 5th as the time, for holding the District convention to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress. The meeting was held in the office of lawyer Thomas G. Hoyle, chairman of the committee. All of the 11 counties composing the district were represented either in person or by proxy and the meeting is said to have been entirely harmonious, the question of selecting a time and place having been settled without serious divergence of view. So far the following four are the only announced candidates for the nomination: Judge E. B. Jones, of Forsyth; Gen. B. S. Royster, of Granville; Dr. Geo. S. Mebane, of Rockingham, and Major Charles M. Stedman, of Guilford.

HILLSBORO FOR SCHOOLS.

Alcohol in Medicines.

Alcohol is the best known preservative of medical compounds, and the average proprietary medicine contains from 1 per cent to 22 per cent, which is the smallest possble amount to preserve the ingredients, while the average doctor's prescription contains from 25 per cent to 50 per cent.

Such standard preparations as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contain but 18 per cent; and they even put the Compound up in tablet form, which the over-scrupulous woman, who objects to alcohol in any degree, may use.

The Stomach and How To Cure Its Ills, Free

More thought is being given to the stomach today than to any other organ. Dieting and a hundred other things are suggested, but the fact remains that we have to eat and that in the main we are eating the same food today that has been eaten for hundreds of years. The point, then, is to find a way of remedying an evil when we find it.

There comes a time in the lives of all of us when a laxative is necessary, only with some this requirement occurs more frequently than with others. But whether the occasion is frequent or rare it is important that you take a simple, natural remedy. The farther you get away from the man-made tablet or pill and the salty purgative water the better. You want something that combines the virtues of a laxative and tonic, something that is sure in its effect and yet pleasant to the taste, a remedy containing earth-grown vegetables and plants. Such is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, now for nearly a quarter of a century a recognized household friend in thousands of homes.

The world affords no better cure for constipation and liver trouble, for indigestion and sour stomach, for sick headache and flatulency than this remedy. But in addition to its laxative value it contains ingredients that have a tonic action in strengthening and invigorating the muscles of the stomach and bowels. That is what the majority need—a tonic laxative. But so there may be no doubt about what it will do in your case, Dr. Caldwell will gladly send you a sample bottle free of charge upon receipt of your name and address. Then, if it pleases you, you can buy it of your druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of others are doing. J. H. Funderburg, Sansaba, Tex., not only uses it with good success himself, but gives it to his children, for owing to its mildness and agreeable taste there is no better laxative for children. S. P. Mead, Waucoma, Ia., has also found it a good family remedy.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.525 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

TO MEMORY DEAR.

Yesterday was North Carolina's Memorial Day, the 10th of May, which ever illustrates the touching significance that the South's heroes, though wrapped in the silence of the grave for 45 years or more, continue to be hallowed in the memory of a people who may forget strife but ever revere the memories of the heroes in the strife. The day also typifies the beautiful devotion of a womanhood that is never forgetting nor tireless in tender tribute to valor and heroism through the recurring years, with events faded in the distant flight of time yet with patriotic sentiment and love of gallant sacrifice ever near and dear to their hearts.

The heroes of a Cause may sleep but the heroines live to bring the garlands and wreaths that once a year are tenderly laid upon graves that are sacred and not forgot. We ever associate the 10th of May with the devotion and faithfulness of woman who has made it a sacred duty that is reverently fulfilled when each Memorial Day summonses her memory, unforgetting and true, of brave deeds and unselfish sacrifices that called for death itself. Once a year in Wilmington the crumbling dust of the gallant Confederate dead is revered and it is expressed in a tribute of flowers that typify the sweetness and purity of the sentiment which is associated with the sacred occasion. That day was celebrated yesterday in Wilmington and throughout the South, and with a people so inspired with remembrance and duty of the higher kind we need never fear for State or Nation as long as that spirit is manifest.

THE BREECH IS OPEN.

Now is the time for all good Democrats to stick together. The Republicans all over the country are rowing and disorganized. They are split into factions and if the Democrats keep their shirts on they can slide into all kinds of soft snaps by the aid of Republican "rantangles" instead of having to raise a campaign fund that simply goes to add to the per capita circulation of the country. It is Republican rows, dissensions, and fights-to-the-finish that are going to do the work. The Republican firing line is having an engagement with itself and if the Democrats will keep cool and organize their battalions on a peace-footing they can make a successful charge on the disordered camp.

Why, even in West Virginia, the Republicans are so torn by warring factions that a dispatch to the Baltimore Sun says the Democrats are "led to believe" that there is some hope of carrying the Legislature and sending a Democrat to Congress from at least one Republican district. Senator Scott and Congressman Hubbard respectively are leading a bitter feud in the Republican ranks, each contending for the supremacy. "Insurgency" is cutting quite a figure, and if the Democrats don't go up against themselves they can get what they want without wasting so much argument on perverse Republicans who are wedded to their idols when they are not in a row.

Do not misconceive the purpose intended here. It is to impress the importance of Democratic harmony in opposition to a practically disrupted opposition party.

The people in Davidson county have erected a monument to Daniel Boone at his pioneer home on the Yadkin. We have no objection to it but we do think a little hard of him for leaving North Carolina and going to Kentucky. It makes us a little dubious about the soundness of his judgment. No doubt there is some tradition that he regretted it.

NOMINATIONS BY THE PEOPLE.

Our Democratic friends over in Virginia are in a ferment over the method of nominating officers, many being dissatisfied with the primary election, such as prevails in the Old Dominion. The Richmond Virginian quotes from the Halifax Gazette the following opinion:

"Bring the matter right squarely before the people, the qualified Democratic voters of Virginia, and we venture to say that if a vote could be taken and the real sentiment of the rank and file could be ascertained, it would, by a very large majority, be against the primary system as now conducted."

The Virginian adds this comment: "All right. The people rule. The people have the right to say whether or not the primary shall be continued. The Virginian occupies the same position that it occupies on the question of prohibition. Let the people vote on it."

The Virginian wants to refer the question to the fountain-head—the people who do the voting. That is Democracy. The same power which is to decide the question as to the primary can best decide as to whom they would nominate to fill their offices. There is no higher power than the sovereign people. They could hardly be expected to exercise their right to vote on the merits of the primary plan or the convention plan, and, in doing so, decide to take their nominatons out of their own hands by leaving them to conventons composed of only a few of the people.

Conventions can be packed and primaries can be debauched but it is up to the people to apply the remedy. They can do it better if it is left in their hands—to their vote.

"The people rule," the Virginian remarks, but when they do not make their own nominations they merely think they rule. To believe that the "people rule" and should decide for themselves as to the primary is equally as good as saying that they should also decide as to whom shall be their nominees for the offices.

The nearer you bring any question to the people the more correctly is the principle of a Democracy illustrated. The primary puts the question into the hands of the people, and if their primary is debauched by any man or set of men the people can crush them and call a halt. If the people are not capable of making their own nominations they are not capable of deciding how those nominations shall be made.

This question is as interesting and important in North Carolina as it is in Virginia. Purify the primary, put a quietus instanter on those who make the primary what it ought not to be, and leave it to the people to decide every question for themselves.

We believe in the primary (the rule of the people) and when it comes to the insidious and vicious politician or politicians who turn the primary to naught the remedy is to do a little "snake killing." If men are made to know that they will be ground under the heels of outraged sovereigns they won't monkey with the primary.

If the people's primary is not what it ought to be the people ought to know the reason why and show their mane and claws to men who pervert, nullify and debauch the election methods of getting the will of the people.

We take it that if the esteemed Virginian wants to "let the people vote" on the primary it will logically take the ground that they should also vote on their nominations.

LOOK FOR THE "JOKER".

In his speech before the Board of Trade at Passaic, N. J., Monday night, President Taft declared that the Insurgent and Democratic dismantling of his railroad bill had not emasculated the bill but "it still retains its important features." The President is an optimist. It seems that he is satisfied with any old thing just so the insurgents don't eviscerate his bill. Any little thing like "emasculation" won't hurt much.

The President should have a care that his apparent satisfaction with what has been done to his bill and his declaration that his bill still is what he intended it to be, will put the insurgents and Democrats to work to find the "joker" in the bill. After all, the President and the opposition may be endeavoring to accomplish the same purpose, but in a different way.

The people will be surprised if any kind of bill will do much towards bringing about a satisfactory solution of the problems to be solved. In the words of the old negro preacher: "Blessed am dem dat 'spects nuth'n fer dey ain't gwinter be diserpinted."

On the eve of the wedding of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt to that British army officer, her divorced husband cabled her from Europe: "Close your eyes and think of the past, Dearie." As she went on with the ceremony it is evident that she kept her eyes open for what was in sight.

We are likely to hear some exhilarating news from Washington this week, as it is announced that a movement is to be set on foot to whip the regulars into line.

Colonel Bryan defiantly says he is "in fighting trim." Please don't get it into your head that this means that he won't run when he gets a chance.

MAY QUIT THE PARTY.

The ferment, dissatisfaction and insurrection in the Republican camp indicates that something is wrong, and those patriotic and virtuous Republicans who have recognized it are demonstrating their condemnation of it. Hence insurgency.

There will be a desertion of party lines if the wrong is not righted. Men of integrity and patriotism, men sturdy and strong for the right, and men with the courage of their convictions, constitute the only power for redemption in a corrupt, decadent and effete party. Those kind of men will get out if they can't bore out the rotten core. There are signs that some of them are tired to the point of indignation and disgust. Well, it's about time.

The Atlanta Constitution alludes to "Atlanta's supremacy in the South." in spite of the fact that Atlanta is way up in the red hills of Georgia near Decatur. Atlanta people actually believe that about Atlanta and the great satisfaction they get out of believing in their town is that it makes other people know that Atlanta is actually on the map. An Atlanta man would rather starve to death and let on like he is wearing diamonds than to say anything against his town. Go and do likewise for your town.

Co-operation is being urged upon the farmer. A good illustration of co-operation is exclusively pointed out by the Star to the farmers. The insurgent Republicans co-operated with the Democrats and succeeded in the purpose for which they insurged.

A court has decided that to say "d—n" is not cursing. It is to be hoped that the court's opinion was not handed down as a license to President Taft just because he might wish to refer to these insurgents in a cussory manner.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is the intention of the United States Senate to try a little "third degree" upon the third degree methods of police in many big cities.—Charleston Post.

It is sorrowful that the ladies of the suffrage cause do not agree even on details of small moment, though they have a good time, no doubt, just as men do over their differences.—Buffalo News.

We are glad to record the statement that more than 12,000 Southern boys less than 18 years old planted and cultivated an acre of corn each last year under the direction of the department of agriculture.—Austin Statesman.

Massachusetts, which was joined with Virginia in planning the Constitution of the United States, now joins the great Southern Commonwealth to protect the constitution from the impairment of its fandamental principles threatened by the lately proposed amendment. New York, Rhode Island, and Georgia, also of the original thirteen, have been in the same way loyal to the constitution, and there should be no doubt that the vote of Pennsylvania will in due time be given against this wholly unnecessary, improper and mischievous tinkering. Every candidate for the Legislature should be pledged to stand by the constitution as interpreted by the Supreme Court. —Philadelphia Ledger (Ind.)

According to reports which purport to be unofficial announcements, the census of 1910 gives New York City 4,563,603 population; Chicago 2,282,926, Philadelphia 1,540,429, St. Louis 575,238, Baltimore 583,374; Cleveland 520,938; Cincinnati 354,012; Washington 350,145; New Orleans 332,162. Whether these figures are authentic or not, New York City will show up with as much population as the States of North Carolina and Virginia combined, Chicago with as much as either North Carolina or Virginia, and Philadelphia with nearly or quite as much as South Carolina. New York will doubtless overtake London within this generation. We have some big towns in this country, and a lot of others big except by comparison with them. Their rapid growth has upset the balance between the town and the farm, causing some economic problems which, unless soon remedied, must grow acute. If effective means can be found for distributing to undermanned land the multitudes of immigrants who now stop in cities, great good will result. It is even more to be hoped that the census will not show continued growth by cities at the rural districts' expense.—Charlotte Observer.

The City Club of Chicago has undertaken an investigation into the high cost of funerals, especially among the middle and lowlier classes of that municipality's population. It is said by parties who have investigated this matter by tracing litigation, which has become very heavy of late years with respect to alleged extortionate charges and so forth at funerals, that a state of affairs exists in Chicago that is disgusting, abhorrent and intolerable. Undertakers are accused of collusion with hospital attendants, disreputable physicians, so-called benevolent societies and officials of cemeteries. Petty charges incident to interment are frequently run up disgracefully, it is charged. If ever man is to be honest, straight-forward and considerate of his fellow-man, it would seem that he ought to be when death enters his fellow-man's home. With death always come shock, confusion and disorder in the household. The thoughts of the bereaved are not concerned with business detail. Then it is that one may be most easily imposed upon, of course. Surely, the City Club of Chicago is prosecuting a splendid work. If such conditions are not to be remedied within the law as it now stands, it is not altogether impossible that public regulation of funerals may be suggested to the law-making authority of Illinois. This practice has long obtained in France and other European countries. The State fixes a maximum and minimum charge for definite service. The exact cost of a funeral is known at any time an interested party may apply for information. —Washington Herald.

It would be unfortunate, indeed, if the development of water power in the eastern States should result in the diminution permanently of one of the most important of our food supplies. The construction of a great dam across the Susquehanna river at McCall's Ferry, it is stated in an article published in The Sun yesterday, has had a disastrous effect upon the fishing industry. Time was when shad fishing in the Susquehanna furnished profitable employment to a great many persons and also provided an abundant supply of one of the finest food fishes for the markets of this section But conditions have changed materially of late years. The dams bar the way of the fish to their spawning grounds in the upper reaches of the river. A man familiar with the conditions of shad fishing in the Susquehanna is quoted in the article in The Sun as asserting the belief that in a few years a shad in the Susquehanna will be a "curiosity". A few years ago these fish came literally by millions to the Upper Susquehanna. It is regrettable from the standpoint of consumers as well as from that of the fishermen that this once important source of food supply seems likely to become barren in a few years. It is of general importance, of course, that the water of the Susequehanna should be available for the generation of electrical energy for illuminating and power purposes. Possibly there is no way of protecting the shad. If there is, however, the matter is worth consideration by national and State governments. The country cannot do without electrical power, but it will be a sad day when it is compelled to do without the shad.—Baltimore Sun.

Mr. James Bryce, the Ambassador from Great Britain, has been for 30 years one of the keenest observers of American affairs. His "American Commonwealth", displayed a remarkable insight into conditions, as well as a thorough knowledge of our institutions. His residence in Washington has given added opportunity for discovery of our faults and our virtues, and his suggestions should be of real value. Mr. Bryce finds that one great difficulty in the choice of competent officials to administer the government is the large number of candidates. Where a great many persons are running in the same election for National, State, municipal and county offices—for everything from President to dog catcher—it is impossible for the voter to scrutinize the record and the personality of each one. Mr. Bryce believes that this is one reason why so many incomeptent, if not venal, men are elected to public office. That our governmental machinery is, in the opinion of many persons, too complex and needs to be simplified is indicated by the movement for the "short ballot", with candidates for only a few leading offices to be voted for, as well as by the rapid adoption of the commission plan of governing cities, eliminating the large city councils. The increase in the number of officeholders and the creation of cumbersome municipal bodies has not resulted in increased efficiency, but has been an expensive failure. Fewer officials, closer scrutiny of candidates, putting in able men and holding them responsible is today the tendency in municipal affairs—the one field of government in which America has not achieved success.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

SENSATION IN KINSTON.

Wholesale Arrest of Alleged Blind Tigers—Prominent Merchants.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Kinston, May 9.—Quite a sensation was created here this afternoon when a detective made a wholesale arrest of alleged blind tigers, getting about all of the most prominent alleged offenders and among them some prominent merchants. For about two weeks the detective has been here with a companion ostensibly organizing a secret society. Today, having got his ducks in a row, he went before Justice of the Peace Peebles and swore out warrants for Mab Laroque, Jr., W. W. Tuten, Charlie Waller, Henry Williams, Walter Fields, Paul Bond and two women of the Sugar Hill district, Mabel Paige and Hattie Johnson.

The first three named waived examination and were bound over to court under bond.

Williams, Field and Bond will be tried by Justice Peebles tomorrow, and the two women have their trial tonight.

All of the men were running near-beer saloons. The first named is a brother of the mayor of the town.

This sweep gets the chief offenders, and it is certain that tiger hunting will be very poor for a tme, at least, from now.

YOUNG MAN SUICIDES.

William Clippard, of Lincoln County, Shoots Himself—Leaves Note.

(Charlotte Observer.)

Lincolnton, May 9.—Yesterday morning, Mr. William Clippard, a young man living in this county near Little Mountain, committed suicide, by shooting himself through the heart. No cause for the rash act can be ascertained. Saturday he attended the circus at Newton and lost $75 on some of the games connected with it, but in a note left to his parents he stated that it was not the loss of the money that caused him to take his life, but other troubles that no one would ever know. Mr. Clippard was the son of Mr. Andrew Clippard and was about 27 years of age. He was unmarried and lived at home with his parents.

HOTEL MEN IN GREENSBORO

Annual Meeting Convened in Gate City Yesterday Afternoon—Mr. J. H. Hinton Proprietor of Orton, in Attendance.

The annual meeting of the Virginia and North Carolina Hotel Men's Association convened in the assembly room of the Guilford Hotel, Greensboro, yesterday afternoon, with more than a hundred hotel men of the two States in attendance. Mr. J. H. Hinton, proprietor of The Orton, and one of the leading members of the association, is in attendance upon the sessions. He left Monday night for Greensboro.

President B. H. Griffin, of the North Carolina Association, was scheduled to preside over the meeting yesterday; Governor W. W. Kitchin was to deliver the address of welcome and the response by President J. H. Callahan, president of the Virginia Association. At 8 o'clock the hotel men were royally entertained at a Dutch supper at Hotel Clegg.

From 9:30 to 11:30 o'clock this morning the hotel men of the two States will hold separate sessions, the Virginia Association meeting at Guilford Hotel and the North Carolina Association at the Clegg. Immediately after the meetings the hotel men and members of their families and lady friends will take automobiles in front of the Guilford Hotel for a trip to High Point, where at 2 o'clock the party will have dinner at the Elwood Hotel, leaving High Point at 3 o'clock for Greensboro to attend the ball game in the afternoon.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock there will be a joint meeting of the two associations at the Guilford Hotel and at 1 o'clock automobiles will be taken for a visit to Guilford Battle Ground, where at 2 P. NEW CONWAY TRAIN.

Connections at Wilmington for the North—Day at Beach.

Commencing next Sunday, the 15th instant, the Atlantic Coast Line will inaugurate a new train servce between Conway, Chadbourn, Whiteville, Wilmington and intermediate points, that will prove to be beneficial to this section. It is in fact the extension of the Conway-Chadbourn train to Wilmington but means more than that implies on account of the connections to and from the North which it will make at Wilmington.

This train will leave Conway at 5:15 A. M. daily (Sundays included) and arrive Wilmington 8:30 A. M., connecting with A. C. L. train 48 arriving New York 6:30 the following morning.

Returning, the train will leave Wilmington 6:25 P. M., connecting with train 49, which brings the heaviest letter and paper mail from the North, and arrive Conway 12:45 at night. Intermediate schedule figures will be forthcoming in a few days.

Aside from the advantages mentioned, passengers from all along the line will have an opportunity to leave their homes at a convenient hour and spend practically a whole day at Wrightsville Beach and Wilmington, and yet reach their homes on the return trip, at a reasonable hour.

The Coast Line, as well as the people along the entire route is to be congratulated upon this progressive improvement in the service for it will undoubtedly prove mutually advantageous.

WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED.

Charlotte Will Send Large Delegation to U. C. T. Council.

According to the Charlotte News the Charlotte Council, U. C. T., will come to Wilmington 50 strong next month for the fourth annual convention of the Grand Council of the Carolinas. In addition the Charlotte Drum Crops, in charge of Drum Major J. O. Walker, will accompany the representatives and delegates and will do their part in furnishing music for the convention. The News says that the Charlotte council has the largest membership of any council in the two States.

The delegates from the Charlotte council are Messrs. N. V. Porter, R. F. Stokes, C. O. Kuester and J. G. Shannonhouse. Mr. E. B. Littlefield and Mr. Shannonhouse are officers of the Grand Council, being secretary and treasurer, respectively. Senior Councillor J. G. Saddelson, of the Charlotte council, will also attend. In all 50 Charlotte U. C. T. men, in addition to the Drum Corps, will be present.

A FINE LOT OF VETCH.

Raised in Chadbourn Section and Sample Received Here.

A bunch of vetch of extra fine quality sent to Mr. James H. Chadbourn by Mr. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, was on display at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, showing the splendid agricultural development in the Chadbourn section and the exhibit was examined with much interest yesterday.

The vetch was raised by Mr. Geo. H. Thompson, who is an able exponent of diversified farming and one of the most successful growers in that section. He is a native of England, who lived in New Mexico for some years after he came to this country and later settled in the Chadbourn section. The yield of the vetch, like the sample received here, is about three tons per acre. Mr. Thompson proposes to use the growth of vetch to enrich his lands aside from its great value as a forage product.

THE NEW WATERWORKS PLANT

Laying of Piping Practically Completed—Pumping Station Presents Busy Scene—Water Off Short Time Yesterday.

That a little thing can sometimes cause no small amount of trouble was abundantly demonstrated yesterday morning, when the contractors, in connecting the new 24-inch water main at the pumping station, discovered an obstruction under the seat of the main valve, making it necessary to close down the entire plant for an hour and a half while the pipe was being cleared of the impediment, much to the annoyance and inconvenience of the consumers, who could not understand the absence of water in the pipes in their homes.

Occurring as it did about noon, when water is essential in the preparation of dinner, the accident greatly inconvenienced consumers, but the trouble was unforeseen by the contractors and could not have been avoided. There was no time to notify consumers, because quick action was necessary. The waterworks office was swamped with telephone calls from every section of the city and after learning the cause consumers were as patient as possible for which the waterworks people are duly grateful. When the water pipes refused to respond as usual with water there was much speculation as to the cause and many suddenly remembered that possibly the bill for the last quarter had not been paid and quite a number called at the waterworks office to settle up amount due.

The work of improving the system is going forward very rapidly and within three months the city will have one of the most complete and up-to-date waterworks plants in the State at a comparatively small cost, it is said. The contractors for the construction work have practically completed the laying of the piping and the various connections will be made in a short time. With the additional 24-inch pipe from the pumping station five times the former quantity of water is being brought to the city. This gives two pipe lines from the station, one a 24-inch and the other a 12-inch. The 12-inch line runs through the city on Fourth to Wright. The 24-inch line comes down Fourth to Taylor, where it is connected with two other pipe lines, one a 20-inch and the other a 16-inch. The 16-inch goes by the Cape Fear Machine Works to Nutt street, thence to Harnett, and down Nutt to Grace, up Grace to Front, down Front to Dock, where it connects with a 12-inch main to Front and Castle, and from Castle to Meares a 10-inch main is used. The 12-inch line continues up Castle to 10th street. The other pipe line from Fourth and Taylor goes to Fifth and Taylor, connecting with 16-inch line, thence to Nixon and on Nixon to Eighth, on Eighth to Bladen, on Bladen to MacRae, on MacRae to Red Cross, Red Cross to Anderson, Anderson to Ninth and Mulberry, where connection is made with 12-inch main which continues on Ninth to Ann, thence on Ann to Eighth, thence on Eighth to Castle. This forms a belt around the city of large pipe with 12-inch through the center and numerous connections with 6, 8 and 10-inch feeders across the city.

At the pumping station a busy scene greets the eye. The mammoth water-tower, which will be 150 feet in height with a capacity of 140,000 gallons, will be completed within a month, when all complaints about lack of pressure will be a thing of the past. R. D. Cole & Co., of Athens, Ga., has the contract for the erection of the tower and has a large force of hands at work under a competent foreman, who is pushing the work to as rapid completion as is consistent with good workmanship. The bottom of the new tower is 15 feet above the top of the old standpipe. Work on the clear water basin is also progressing rapidly. It is stated that with the storage facilities provided through this basin the city will be able to run 10 fire streams for six consecutive hours with clear water and still have sufficient amount left for domestic consumption, having on hand all that which is filtered in the six hours. The new 4,000,000 gallon capacity pump will give a total capacity of 6,000,000 gallons every 24 hours. The work on the reservoir is also moving along very rapidly. It is stated that within three months the entire improvements will be completed and the city will have practically a new waterworks system.

W. H. Swift, Esq., a Visitor.

W. H. Swift, Esq., superintendent of the Greensboro graded schools, spent yesterday afternoon and last night in the city with his friend, Dr. J. G. Murphy. He will probably be main here today and visit the Wilmington graded schools. Mr. Swift delivered an address yesterday at Kenansville, the occasion being the closing of the graded school there. Mr. Swift has been superintendent of the Greensboro schools for a number of years, but recently tendered his resignation, effective at the close of the present school year, and will devote his time to the practice of law in Greensboro.

FEDERAL COURT CONVENES

Judge Jas. E. Boyd, of Greensboro, Presiding—After Selection of the Grand Jury and the Charge Recess Was Taken.

The Spring term of United States District Court convened in this city yesterday morning at 10 o'clock with Judge Jas. E. Boyd, of Greensboro, presiding. After the selection of the grand jury and an able charge by His Honor recess was taken until 10 o'clock this morning, Judge Boyd believing that Memorial Day, a State holiday, should be observed in memory of the departed heroes of the struggle between the States.

With the exception of Marshal Claudius Dockery, who will arrive later, all the court officials were present yesterday morning as follows: Hon. H. F. Seawell, of Carthage, the new District Attorney; Assistant District Attorney J. A. Giles, of Durham; Clerk S. P. Collier, Deputy Marshals J. T. Sharp and P. A. Mitchell, from the marshal's office in Raleigh; Deputy Marshal C. O. Knox, of this city, and Crier John Brown.

The jury was drawn and empanneled as follows: J. F. Wallace, foreman; J. R. Green, C. E. Smith, David Ward, Frances Burkman, E. E. Murphy, Thos. T. Bostick, E. T. Durham, C. S. Hines, W. Frank Wright, J. D. McLeod, J. W. Clewis, J. H. Smith, J. D. Saunders, Geo. F. Drew, Richard Mathis, J. F. Barkley and Berry Hammonds. Capt. Tom Morse was sworn as officer in charge of the jury. The list does not contain the name of a single New Hanover man, but several were drawn on the trial juries.

Judge Boyd's charge was clear, comprehensive and logical, directing the jurors plainly as to their duties. He emphasized the fact that a grand jury is supposed to be as much a barrier to improper prosecutions as an instrumentality for prosecutions and that it is not a means for gratifying any personal ill-will. In calling attention to the liquor laws, Judge Boyd stated that the operation of a distillery in this State is illegal under the laws of North Carolina, though lawful so far as the government is concerned, the United States laws remaining the same as heretofore, but as no distiller would hardly be bold enough to secure government license to operate a distillery it is fair to assume that anyone found operating a plant of the kind is violating the laws of the United States as well as the State of North Carolina. Not only is the person or persons found operating the distillery guilty, but the owner, who may not be present, and anyone who carries away the product, for he would be handling goods upon which the tax had not been paid. Judge Boyd spoke at some length upon the laws governing the Postoffice Department, explaining that every employe, from postmaster down, is held strictly accountable to the government for faithful performance of duty. He referred to the tax on tobacco, though he did not think there were any violations of this law in this section, and called special attention to the tax on oleomargerine and stated that he understood that this revenue law was being violated in this district. He also discussed in an enlightening and interesting way the immigration laws and laws governing vessels.

Judge Boyd has made a most favorable impression here as he does everywhere he goes to hold court. This is his first appearance in Wilmington as presiding judge and he has impressed local members of the bar as a man and jurist of exceptional ability. This is also District Attorney Seawell's first official visit to Wilmington and he has already made many friends among members of the bar.

United States Marshal Claudius Dockery went to New York City a few days ago and will not arrive here until toward the latter part of the week. There are very few cases on the criminal side of the docket and only one of any great importance, the defendant in this case being Everett McAllister, a young postoffice clerk, charged with rifling the mails, taking therefrom moneys and appropriating same to his own use. He was arrested some months ago, waived preliminary examination and was committed to jail in default of bond. Postoffice Inspector Robertson, who, with the aid of another inspector, worked up the case, arrived yesterday. The New Hanover county cases are set to be called on Friday, but Assistant District Attorney Giles stated last night that probably the McAllister case would be called today. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., has been retained as counsel for the young man. It is thought likely that the criminal side of the docket will be cleared in a few days and some are inclined to think that very few cases on the civil calendar will be heard at this term. A motion has been made to set aside the verdict in the case involving possession of a portion of the Fort Caswell reservation, tried at the last term and verdict given for the government, but this will not be urged at this term of court.

Were Married Last Night.

A sumptuous supper was served immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson will reside in Wilmington, where both have many friends.

INEXPRESSIBLY SAD DEATH

Miss Lucy Adelaide Chadbourn Passed Away Last Evening at James Walker Memorial Hospital. The Funeral.

Inexpressibly sad and a source of infinite sorrow to hundreds of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere, is the death of Miss Lucy Adelaide Chadbourn, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Chadbourn, of this city, which occurred yesterday evening a little after 7 o'clock, as the shades of an earthly night were gathering, at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where she had been a sufferer the past two weeks, the summons having been a welcome relief after all that human aid could do had been exhausted and it became the will of the Master that her sweet spirit should be gathered to the home from which it came.

Miss Chadbourn had just reached the threshold of a beautiful young Christian womanhood, the joy of the hearts of tenderly devoted parents and the admired of all in a wide circle of friends and associates, for her many charms of person and manner, her sweet disposition and her beautiful Christian character had made for her friends everywhere and in every walk of life. She became ill two weeks ago and with that perfect resignation and obedience to the will of the Master that was ever one of the characteristics of her life, she went to the hospital cheerfully and without a murmur, leaving those behind her distressed but with joy in the hope that she would be early restored to them in the perfect bloom of her health. Everything possible known to medical science, the most tender and loving care and attention, however, were not sufficient to stay the hand of death and she entered peacefully, at the hour named, into that glorious heritage which is hers.

Miss Chadbourn had been a prominent and most active worker in the First Presbyterian church, of which she was a devoted member and her life had been an inspiration to those about her. Her work among the young people had been especially notable and her presence in the congregation and in the home will be sadly missed. The bereaved ones have the tenderest and heart-felt sympathy of the community. Surviving members of the immediate family are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Chadbourn; one sister, Mrs. George C. Worth, wife of Dr. George C. Worth, missionary at Kiang-Yin, China, and one brother, Mr. William H. Chadbourn, Jr., chief engineer for the Chicago & Great Western Railway with headquarters in Chicago. Until the last named can arrive from Chicago the funeral arrangements will not be completed. It will, of course, be impossible for Dr. and Mrs. Worth to reach the States in time for the services, however long delayed, but a cablegram has been forwarded to them conveying the distressing intelligence of the death and condolences of friends in Wilmington. There were many callers at the saddened home last night to comfort the sorely stricken father and mother and to be of any assistance they might to them in this hour of their great sorrow.

WINTER PARK GARDENS.

Twenty Lots "Not Free" But So Cheap They're Almost Free.

In the advertisement of the Winter Park Gardens Company in Sunday's Star an unfortunate error occurred in which the prospective settler was asked as a finality to a very striking argument to "Get one of the 20 lots offered at present free." The lots are so cheap and the terms are so easy that the property is almost free, but just at present no one or twenty of them are free. A call at the office of the company, 516 Southern Building, or a phone message to No. 841 will bring all necessary information as to these desirable lots, which are going fast, the owners in many instances already erecting homes upon them.

Biograph Subject Today.

An excellent Biograph subject will feature the bill at the Bijou today. "Thou Shalt Not," a lesson in self-sacrifice, is the title of the picture. It is a subject that is bound to attract attention from the fact that it is powerful argument on the principles of the medical profession, the health board of every community and the worthy tuberculosis committee. Aside from this it tells a decidedly interesting story, with photographic quality and scenic beauty not surpassed in motion pictures. "An Interrupted Honeymoon," a big laugh maker, will also be shown.

MR. WILLIAM GLISSON DEAD.

Passed at Home of Daughter in Beaufort, N. C., Monday.

Many friends and relatives in this city and section will regret to learn of the death of Mr. William Glisson, whose death occurred Monday afternoon at Beaufort, N. C., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alice Corbett, after an illness of a few days of blood poison, resulting from the extraction of a tooth, he having cut around it himself with a knife. Mr. Glisson was 70 years old and formerly resided at Point Caswell, Pender county, where the funeral and interment will take place today. The remains were brought through here yesterday en route to Point Caswell. Accompanying the body to this city was Mr. Albert Corbett, nephew of the deceased. Mrs. Corbett, daughter of the deceased, is ill herself and unable to attend the funeral services. The body was brought here on the Newbern train and transferred to the steamer Alice for Point Caswell. Accompanying the body from here, in addition to Mr. Corbett, were Mrs. W. McD. Evans, sister of the deceased, Mr. Danfel Glisson, a nephew; Mr. James Glisson, also a nephew, and his wife.

Mr. Glisson is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Corbett, of Beaufort; three brothers, Messrs. Peter, Luke and Dave, of Point Caswell; four sisters, Mrs. W. McD. Evans and Mrs. A. M. Pate, of Wilmington; Mrs. Bettie Hightower, of Goldsboro, and Miss Cattie Glisson, of Point Caswell, and a number of grandchildren. Mr. Glisson was a Confederate Veteran, fighting for the Southern cause throughout the Civil War, and was a deacon in the Baptist Church at Point Caswell. He was a good man and was highly esteemed by all who knew him and to the bereaved is extended the sympathy of many friends.

RETURN FROM SYNOD.

Lutherans Will Meet Here Next Year. Rev. Mr. Beatty Ordained.

Mr. W. W. Koch, who was a delegate from St. Matthew's Lutheran church, to the annual meeting of the Synod at Albemarle, returned yesterday morning, and Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's church, returned Sunday. Mr. A. D. Wessell, the delegate from St. Paul's, went from Albemarle to Salem, to visit his daughter who is in school there and from the Twin City he will go to Newberry, S. C., to see his son, a student in the Newberry College. Mr. Koch attended the ordination services of Rev. Harold E. Beatty, the new pastor of St. Matthew's church, which took place Sunday. Mr. Beatty, who is already well known to St. Matthew's congregation, having filled the pulpit at intervals for several months past, will enter upon his pastorate Sunday, May 28th. The next meeting of the Synod will be held in Wilmington, this city winning over three other towns.

Barque Hancock Goes Foreign.

The barque Hancock, Capt. Finley, with cargo of lumber from the S. & W. H. Northrop Lumber Company cleared yesterday for Port au Prince. The barque carries 326,256 feet, valued at $6,291. It will be recalled that shortly after the barque arrived here a majority of the crew appeared before Mr. B. F. Keith, commissioner of shipping, and demanded a survey of the vessel declaring her to be unseaworthy. They were granted that privilege, but two of the number went back to work, making the survey unnecessary. The vessel will sail today with a full crew.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Negro Found Not Guilty of Charge of Embezzlement.

Yesterday's session of the Recorder's court was presided over by Substitute Recorder George Harriss, Recorder Furlong being detained at home on account of illness in his family. John Brown, colored, was tried on the charge of embezzlement, preferred by Jim Clarke, colored, and was found not guilty. The case came up from Justice W. McD. Evans. Geo. L. Peschau, Esq., appeared for the prosecution and Kellum & Loughlin for the defendant. John Bishop, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was let off upon the payment of the costs. It seems that Bishop had a quarrel Monday with members of his family and started to make a "rough house," when officers were called. They were sorry yesterday morning for their hasty action and asked for leniency for Bishop.

FOR PILOTS AND MASTERS.

Inspector Rice Gave Examination at Custom House Yesterday.

Five applicants for government licenses as either masters or pilots stood examinations at the Custom House yesterday by United States Inspector Fred B. Rice.

Fred Harper and Fleet Williams, for first-class pilots' licenses; Mr. James Thompson, for motor-boat license; Mr. J. C. Pretlow, of Point Caswell, special license as steamboat master. The examination is given annually at this port by government inspectors but the number of applicants this year was larger than usual.

IN HONOR OF MRS. J. W. YATES, OF WILMINGTON.

The following from yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer will be read with interest by friends in Wilmington:

"One of the most enjoyable At Home events of the season was that given last evening from 6 to 7 by Mrs. Z. P. Smith and the Misses King, at their home on Hillsboro streets, in honor of their guest, Mrs. J. W. Yates, of Wilmington.

"The little Misses Rena Yates and Marion Smith took the cards at the door, and in the hall were Mrs. J. P. Ferrall and Mrs. J. E. O'Donnell. In the receiving line were Mesdames Z. P. Smith, J. W. Yates, Albert Bauman and the Misses King.

"Mrs. Jas. O. Litchford and Miss Florence Jones served punch in the library. Mrs. Leinster, the Misses Katie Hervey, Eliza Wynne, Ethel Young and Ebie Roberts were in charge of the refreshments. An excellent string orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Edw. Falte, furnished the music.

"The spacious rooms were charmingly decorated. Mountain laurel, palms and ferns beautified the halls and parlor. The library was decorated with red roses and ferns, while red lights carried out the color scheme. Festoons of smilax were draped from the chandelier to the four corners of the table in the dining room, while pink roses, en masse, formed the center piece. About 150 guests were present."

T. Baker, Miss Jennie Stanland, Mrs. William Struthers, Miss Rosa Meredith, Ernest Green, H. T. Baker and R. W. Hodges. The very attractive programme was most pleasingly rendered. Those taking part were: Cornelia Foster, as Bettie; Mable King, as Kate; Ella Brady as Blanche; Nettie King, Elizabeth; Maude Glasgow, as Mildred; Mary Reilly, as Helen; Lena Standland, as Tegia; Lula Morrill, as Mary. JAMES S. MANNING.--A Sketch

Hon. James Smith Manning was born in Pittsboro, Chatham county, June 1st, 1859, and is a son of Hon. John Manning, who for 18 years was Professor of Law at the University of North Carolina. His father was a native of Chowan county and his maternal great grandfather was Judge John Hall, of Warren county, for many years Judge of the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

Judge Manning was educated in the school of Prof. Merritt of Chatham county and at the University of North Carolina, where he graduated in 1879. He read law under his father, who was then Professor of Law at the University, and was licensed to practice in 1881. He immediately began the practice of law in Durham—first with his father and then with H. A. Foushee—and by his ability and industry acquired a large practice, being recognized by the public and his fellow members of the bar as a lawyer of great ability, untiring industry and almost unerring judgment.

He was married December 12th, 1888, to Miss Julia Cain, daughter of Dr. James F. Cain of Durham county, and niece of the late Judge Thomas Ruffin, of Orange county, and he has an interesting family of four boys and two girls.

Judge Manning served six years as chairman of the Durham County Executive Committee and prior to his appointment as judge had been for many years a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee. He was the Democratic nominee for judge of the Superior Court in 1896, but was defeated along with the entire Democratic State ticket.

Judge Manning has always taken a leading part in the industrial and educational development of his section.

He was a member of the House of Representatives in 1907 and served as chairman of the Committee on Public Service Corporations. He was one of the leaders in that body and worked unceasingly in favor of securing relief to the people from excessive freight and passenger rates.

In 1908 Judge Manning was elected by a large majority to the State Senate where he served as chairman of the Judiciary Committee. When Judge Connor resigned in the Spring of 1909, Governor Kitchin appointed him as Judge Connor's successor on the Supreme Court Bench. Since then he has given his whole time and attention to the work of the court and is recognized as measuring up to the high requirements of that exalted position. His opinions are clear, cogent and concise and he has the esteem and has won the respect of the entire legal profession.

Judge Manning belongs to that class of men whose word is his bond. He has always stood fore-square to every wind that blew—outspoken, frank, sincere and manly—No one ever accused him of evasion. Warm hearted, genial, sincere, he numbers his friends by the score. A kind husband, a good father, a wise counselor and a learned lawyer he has made an ideal judge and in honoring him, the Democratic party will honor itself.—Durham Recorder. **

Look Us Up In Greensboro!

IF you want to find out how a man stands you look him up in the community where he lives. Don't you? And the same thing might apply just as well to an institution. If I could induce you to come to Greensboro, see our buildings and grounds and talk with our townspeople about what we are doing—there wouldn't be much question in your mind of the standing of this Institute, I am sure.

If you can't do that—note carefully the picture above. See the spacious buildings, the broad lawns and the shady trees. For the Institute is built on one of the most famous and beautiful old estates in the South—once the home of a former governor of the State. The old mansion now modernized and enlarged into a delightful, comfortable and convenient sanitarium—with every appointment of a perfectly equipped modern hotel.

The best way to find out the kind of work we are doing is to ask any of the 6,500 men whom we have cured. I have published a few of their voluntary opinions in a book that is full of vital interest.

You can write me with the perfect assurance that your letter will be treated as confidential.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, May 10.—There was a renewal of active covering by near mouth shorts in the cotton market today, and a further sharp advance in prices with May contracts selling 15.32 or 22 points above the closing figures of last night, and at the highest level reached since that position sold at 13.50 last January. The close was a shade off from the top under realizing but steady at a net gain of 2 to 21 points.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points in keeping with steady cables, good English spot sales, and encouraging private reports as to trade conditions in Manchester where a strike is now said to be out of the question. At first the market showed some hesitation, but very shortly after the call it became evident that near months shorts were very uneasy and an advance started which at times was accompanied by some excitement. After selling about 15 points higher on the old crop, prices reacted slightly but there was a renewed advance during the afternoon which carried the market into new high ground in spite of selling on a scale up, attributed to leading bulls. The close was 5 or 6 points off from the top on active positions. The advance during the afternoon was encouraged by reports of firmer southern spot markets and it was said that an offer of 14 3-4 cents basis middling for the entire New Orleans stock had been refused. The weekly report of the weather bureau was considered rather bullish as it noted deficient precipitation for the week in the southwest, but new crop positions were relatively quiet all day, and at the best points showed a net gain of only 7 to 9 points. Liverpool spot interests and Wall street were among the buyers of old crop positions presumably to cover shorts. Southern spot markets officially reported early were 1-8 to 3-16 higher.

Receipts at the ports today were 6,999 bales against 34,022 last week and 20,304 last year. For the week 45,000 bales against 52,978 last week and 99,119 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans were 1,846 bales against 5,783 last year.

Cotton: Spot closed quiet 20 points higher; middling uplands 15.70; middling gulf 15.95. Sales were 3,004 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed steady.

HUBBARD BROS' LETTER

Feature of Cotton Was Movement of Nearby Positions.

New York, May 10.—The feature of the market is, of course, the movement of the nearby positions under the speculative influence which holds them well in hand. Light trading in May during the earlier hours was accompanied by active dealings in July both by the local interests. A demonstration in force by the leaders somewhat later started a sharp rise in May which during the afternoon had advanced 20 points above the close of yesterday, while new crop deliveries stood practically still. This course of prices shown by the reports is cited merely to indicate the local and speculative nature of the market, the covering of the shorts, and the inactivity of the general public. There is little of interest beyond the local dealings which the bulls control at the moment.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, May 10.—A parallel suggesting the carrying of coal to Newcastle was drawn in the Chicago wheat pit today when a million bushels of cash wheat at Duluth were reported engaged to be brought here for delivery on May contracts. The consternation resulting dropped the price of the May option four and a one half and caused general selling in the active futures. The close was weak at practically the bottom figures of the day but with May showing a loss of 3 7-8 as compared with last night's price. July and September finished respectively 7-8 and 1c lower.

Corn closed 1-4c lower to 1-8c higher. Oats unchanged to 3-8 higher, and provisions 5c lower to 2 1-2c higher.

THE STOCK MARKET.

New York, May 10.—The sprinkage in activity constituted the principal feature of the early stock market today during which price movements were halting and irregular. The late bulge in prices was coincident with a decline in wheat.

The most plausible explanation of the change in the early appearance of the market was that supporting measures which were adopted yesterday and Saturday to guard against the depressing effort of the death of the King of England, were desisted from.

Immediate influences from the London market remained favorable to values today.

The movements amongst the granger railroad stocks reflected some divergence of sentiment over prospects for different classes of the wheat crop. Railroads through the winter wheat sections continued somewhat backward while the spring wheat grangers duplicated a striking upward movement in the latter part of the day. The weekly bulletin of the weather bureau did not encourage hopes of rapid progress in winter wheat from the unfavorable weather condition. The weather in the cotton sections also was not what was desired.

The market for copper metal made a show of strength both in London and New York, and there were reports of some large sales effected here. The copper industrial responded with a rise in prices which proved a sustaining influence in the general list. United States Steel did not share in the benefit of this movement, the dealings in that stock being at prices lower than yesterday's closing for most of the day.

There was a fresh crop of rumors of dividend increases and a revival of old ones touching Brooklyn Transit, Chesapeake and Ohio and Louisville and Nashville prospects.

Bonds were firmer. Total sales, par value were $2,118,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today were 643,000 shares.

THE FINANCIAL MARKET.

New York, May 10.—Money on call steady 3 3-4 to 4 per cent., ruling rate 3 3-4, closing bid 3 3-4, offered at 4. Time loans firm and dull; sixty days 3 3-4 to 4 per cent., and ninety days 4 to 4 1-4; six months 4 to 4 1-4.

Prime mercantile paper 4 3-4 to 5 1-4 per cent. Sterling exchange weaker with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8375 to 4.8385 for sixty day bills and at 4.8875 for demand. Commercial bills 4.83 3-8 to 4.83 3-4. Bar silver 53 7-8. Mexican dollars 44.

display a heroism, oft times harder to enact, in waging an unceasing warfare on those more dangerous enemies of any country, the men within its borders who would rob its people of their manliness and independence of character, and make them subjects of a defiling plutocracy. It will require courage—strong moral courage—to stand out in the open and, in self respect and proper pride, say to those who are despoilers of virtue, to those who would acquire wealth fraudulently and illegitimately, to those who are in public matters untrustworthy, and yet would be counted among those who are upright and true.

"The hand of Douglas is his own
And never shall in friendly clasp
The hand of such as Marmion grasp."

The Women of the South! Typical of all that is pure, and holy, and exalted on earth. At their command, for they forget not their soldiers, we are here today to honor the memory of heroes, whose swords they buckled on, and bade go forth to war for their country. With fluttering plumes and waving banners, with flashing swords and glistening bayonets, to the beat of drum and call of bugle, they saw them march forth, young and vigorous, life holding out yet its brightest promise. And then they went back to their homes to weep, and to pray the protecting care of the God of battle. To pray and weep for four long years, for as news of impending battles sifted homeward from the distant, tented fields, troubled and anxious hearts, in tears and grief, lay prostrate and imploring before the great white throne. And as each battle was fought, with straining nerve, anxious and afraid, they listened fearfully, and heard again and again, the soldier's epitaph, "fallen on the field." And as each stroke fell on quivering, pain-steeped consciousness, knees were bent again, and hearts sobbed out their sorrow before the mercy seat of the Great Sympathizer. They saw their soldiers come home again—some on their shields—none without them. Wounded and scarred, maimed and mutilated, ragged and worn, all lost, save honor and that indomitable spirit which had held them close to duty for four long years. They saw them come to resume suspended labors, to take up old tasks, to commence the weary work of restoration of a ruined land. And they stood by the side of these war worn veterans, to comfort and to soothe, to encourage and to cheer, to minister and to bless, yea, even when their own hearts were failing them for fear, to render less toilsome the painful path of irksome duty, with woman's smile and woman's love. Theirs ever the hardest part. Theirs always to pay the price, whether it be in the wreck of a nation, the destruction of a home, or the crippling of an individual life. Can we then honor them too much, they who were really the burden bearers of the war, they who sacrificed, they who wept and anguished, they, who in the horrible days that followed war, when the devastated South was carefully gleaned of its last possessions by the vultures that flap their wings in the wake of all armies, turned unashamed hands to rough and unknown tasks, and in the midst of direst poverty and want and trouble never lacked a loving smile nor a cheerful word for the men, working and striving to rebuild their shattered fortunes. Some of them are here today. Some of them have lived to see a rejuvenated South, once more young and fresh and vigorous, with happy present, with promising future. And though in their innermost hearts, they still keep a sacred shrine devoted with sweetest tenderness to those that have been "lost awhile," they delight them none the less in this younger generation that is to carry our country on to greater heights of strength and usefulness in the time to come.

Bare your heads in their presence, yea, even in your thought of them, for if ever angels walked this earth of ours, unknown to men, they were clothed in the semblance of the wives and mothers of that day—they, who amidst trial and tribulation, danger and despair, toil and poverty, knew no surrender, and kept their indomitable courage even unto the end.

We lay upon this sacred ground, in loving memory of those who are only a day's march ahead of many of us, beautiful wreaths,

"Where the bugle is hushed and the war note is over
The roll call is heard, where the troopers stand by
And tears for the silence where none may reply."
"Green be their couches where the white lilies lean,
Crimson the roses that keep guard above them,
Gentle the darkness that gathers between
The sleepers at rest and the torn hearts that loved them,
God give them refuge where life's flag is furled,
These dreamers gone back to the dust of the world."

Mr. Meares' address captivated his hearers and at the conclusion of the applause when he took his seat, the choir sang the hymn "Soldiers of Christ Arise;" after which the chief marshal read with impressive effect the roll of honored dead, those who lost their lives in the service of the Confederacy, 1861-1865, and those veterans who have "crossed the river" since last Memorial Day. After a further selection by the choir, the presentation of the Crosses of Honor took place, the master of ceremonies reading the list and the veterans coming forward to have the tokens of their love and devotion pinned to the lapels of their coats by the Daughters of the Confederacy. The list read was as follows: Private T. A. Hodges, Private John R. Turrentine and Sergeant J. H. Ruark. A descendant's cross was also presented to Mrs. Jane DeRosset, daughter of the lamented Col. Robert H. Cowan, by the Daughters. The doxology then followed and a benediction by Dr. Foster, after which the Light Infantry fired a salute, taps were sounded and the exercises came to a close. The W. L. I. remained at the cemetery some time after the conclusion of the exercises, proceeding to the graves of their deceased comrades and firing a salute in honor of Col. John L. Cantwell, Capt. Armand L. DeRosset and Capt. A. D. Cazaux.

The W. L. I. marched to the music of a trained drum corps composed of Messrs. Frank Turrentine, W. L. Burkheimer, John T. Yates and Wilbur Dosher and with the Boys' Brigade made a fine showing of Wilmington's military, which has always been most generous in joining in the memorial exercises here. The veterans in command of Gen. Metts also turned out in great numbers and made a fine showing in uniform. Not only was the Wilmington camp well represented but there were many from out of the city, among the number being the venerable Mr. A. H. Evans, of Town Creek, Brunswick county, who never fails of an opportunity of joining his comrades in any good work. A pleasing incident of the observance was the presence of four of five brothers, who fought valiantly through the war. They were Messrs. W. H. and J. A. King, of the Cavalry service, and T. E. and J. M. King, of the Artillery. Two of them reside in Wilmington and two in Pender county, but they were all here yesterday and occupied seats together about the monument, a grim reminder of the fact that "there were giants in those days," for they are all remarkably well preserved, in good health and would give many a younger man "a run for his money" even at this late day.

The exercises yesterday were in every way most pleasing, most appropriate and in full keeping with the true spirit of the day.

All the arrangements for the beautiful exercises were made by the Memorial Committee of Cape Fear Chapter, U. D. C., of which Mrs. T. E. Sprunt is chairman and much praise is due them for the beautiful observance

At Mount Olive, N. C.

Mount Olive, N. C., May 10.—Memorial Day was very appropriately celebrated here today under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy with a fine address by Hon. George E. Hood, of Goldsboro. After the address the graves of the Confederate dead were decorated by the loving hands of the ladies.

At Rocky Mount.

Rocky Mount, N. C., May 10.—Today, Memorial Day, is being observed in this city and a programme arranged by the Bethel Heroes Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy is the chief event, while the children of the city schools decorated the graves of the Confederate dead at Pineview cemetery this afternoon. The city schools are observing the holiday along with the employes of the Atlantic Coast Line shops and other branches of their business in this city.

At Clinton.

Clinton, N. C., May 10.—Memorial Day was observed here today by a large gathering of Confederate Veterans and friends. The day was ideal and the ceremonies unusually interesting. Some 3,000 people were in attendance. The address was delivered by Judge C. M. Cooke, who is holding court here, and was a very able and interesting one. Dinner was served the veterans and their families by the ladies of the community in the armory. The Sampson Light Infantry, one of the crack companies of the State guard, took part in the ceremonies.

At Goldsboro.

Goldsboro, N. C., May 10.—A clear sky and sparkling sunshine ushered in Memorial Day. The weather god was kind and the day dawned beautiful, with people from all over the county in attendance to observe the day that all Southerners honor. Out of loving remembrance of the departed heroes who fought and shed their life's blood for the lost cause, practically all Goldsboro took a holiday. The parade, which took place at 4 o'clock, was one of the largest and best ever held in this city. The procession formed at the Court House and proceeded to the cemetery where the exercises began promptly at 4:30 o'clock.

The exercises opened with a prayer by the chaplain, Rev. J. Gilmer Buskie. The choir then sang a beautiful hymn at the close of which Col. A. C. Davis, chief marshal, in a few well chosen words, introduced the orator of the day, Col. Jos. E. Robinson, editor of the Goldsboro Argus, and long will the great crowd of visitors, Goldsboro people, and the old Confederate soldiers who were among the large and appreciative audience, remember his grand and noble tribute to the Confederate soldiers.

Fayetteville Observance.

Fayetteville, N. C., May 10.—Memorial Day was observed here with the usual appropriate ceremonies and the closing of the banks, postoffice and business houses. As part of the memorial exercises held by the Daughters of the Confederacy, Major B. F. Dixon, State Auditor, delivered an eloquent and fitting address. He was introduced by Major A. A. Mackethan. An imposing procession consisting of police, military, Confederate Veterans, Daughters of the Confederacy, Children of Confederacy, speakers and city officials moved from the centre of the city to Cross Creek cemetery where the exercises were held in the shadow of the first erected Confederate monument in North Carolina.

The children's chapter decorated the soldiers' graves and appropriate hymns were rendered. Twenty-five crosses of honor were presented to veterans and salutes were fired by the military. Preceding the exercises at the cemetery, a dinner was srved the veterans at the armory. During the dinner the children's chapter entertained the old soldiers with war songs and recitations. The Holt Morgan band gave inspiring music as it led the Memorial procession. All the stores were closed in honor of the day. Beautiful floral designs and flags were placed on both of our Confederate monuments.

At Washington, N. C.

Washington, N. C., May 10.—Today was observed in this city as Memorial Day by the Daughters of the Confederacy, the citizens and the ex-Confederate veterans of this city and county. Quite a large number of gray-haired ex-Confederate veterans from all over the county were in attendance and the day was most fittingly observed with appropriate exercises, a dinner to the old soldiers and decoration of the graves of ex-Confederates at Oakdale cemetery. The exercises of the day were held under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy, in the large auditorium of the Public School building, assisted by the Children of the Confederacy and a number of prominent citizens. The speaker of the day, Hon. J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, of Raleigh, delivered the memorial address. He was gracefully introduced by Mr. Stephen C. Bragaw, of this city, and for nearly an hour held his audience spellbound with his eloquence. His address was a beautiful tribute to the memory of the civil war, heroes of the South and its women and made quite an impression on his audience bringing forth much applause. Immediately after the exercises a parade was formed and all marched to Oakdale cemetery, where the graves of the ex-Confederate veterans were decorated, after which gave a picnic dinner in the armory to the ex-Confederates, served by the ladies of this city.

Exercises at Newbern.

Newbern, N. C., May 10.—On account of the unavoidable absence of the speaker, Congressman Chas. R. Thomas, the usual memorial day exercises in the opera house were called off but the Confederate graves and monument in Cedar Grove cemetery were decorated in the usual manner. The parade formed on the Academy green and marched to the cemetery in this order: Police, Naval Reserves, Veterans, 40 in number, Coast Artillery, Children of the Confederacy, Daughters of the Confederacy and citizens. After decorating the graves with flowers and the singing of songs the Coast Artillery and Naval Reserves fired salutes over the graves. There were about 2,500 in the cemetery during the exercises.

Gov. Kitchin Spoke.

Raleigh, N. C., May 10.—Southern Memorial Day was observed in Raleigh today under the auspices of the Ladies Memorial Associaton, the address being delivered by Gov. W. W. Kitchin. A memorial gateway was presented by the local Daughters of the Confederacy for the Confederate cemetery, the presentation address being made by Mrs. E. E. Moffitt, of Richmond, Va. The day was observed throughout the State and corner stones of Confederate monuments were laid at several places. At Charlotte the crosses of honor were pinned on by the widow of Stonewall Jackson.

Observed at Spartanburg.

Spartanburg, S. C., May 10.—Memorial Day was observed here with an address by Rev. W. H. P. Pendleton, of the Episcopal church, delivered before a great crowd on the court house lawn. Songs by the school children contributed to the day's exercises. The graves of all Confederate soldiers were decorated with flowers by the Daughters of the Confederacy.

COTTON GOING FOREIGN.

Important Decision of Commerce Commission Regarding Proper Baling.

Washington, May 10.—A decision was handed down by the Interstate Commerce Commission today dealing with the importance of the proper baling of cotton shipped from points in the South to European destinations. In the course of the opinion the Commission says:

"It is not deemed amiss to call the attention of cotton growers and shippers and the railroads to the fact that cotton bales from the United States shipped to Europe are received in worse condition as to packing than cotton bales arriving there from any other country."

The case was brought by Anderson, Clayton & Company, of Oklahoma, against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company and other interstate carriers in which it was alleged that every service including the applying of owners or shippers patches the cotton bales in the compression was included in the through rate to final destination of the shipment.

The commission holds that the facts do not justify an order against the defendent carriers; that the carriers have the right to compress cotton in transit and that the shippers or owners have the privilege of concentrating cotton at designated compresses, with the right of such shippers or owners to deliver the cotton back to the carriers for transportation to its final destination on the through rate from point of origin.

MURDER AT SPRING CREEK.

Trouble Between Families Causes One Farmer to Kill Another.

Asheville, N. C., May 10—Ed Brown, a farmer, is reported to have been killed by Robert Holt, near Spring Creek yesterday. The shooting is said to have been the result of trouble between the two families over what is alleged to have been improper relations of Brown with a sister of Holt, who is incidentally Brown's sister-in-law, a Holt having married Brown's sister.

It is said Brown went to the home of J. H. Holt, father of Robert Holt, on an errand of peace when shots were exchanged, Brown later went to Robert Holt's house, a few miles away, and is reported to have accused Holt of circulating false stories about him. Hot words ensued and Holt, who was armed with a shot gun, returned the revolver fire of his opponent, killing him instantly. It is stated Holt is wounded. The Holts, father and son, are now in jail at Marshall, awaiting a preliminary hearing, though habeas corpus proceedings are being taked of.

GRAND LODGE, ODD FELLOWS.

Convened in Goldsboro Yesterday Afternoon—Park Day.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., May 10.—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows convened in annual session in this city this afternoon for a three days' conference. Odd Fellows are coming into Goldsboro from every part of North Carolina and by the afternoon everything was ready for the opening session which was called to order at 3:30.

This week will be a most memorable one in the demonstration history of the city. Besides welcoming the State Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, several big barbecue dinners and the dedication of the Jacobi Memorial Thursday will be "Park Day", which promises to be a gala day, and preparations are already being made to have a beautiful parade Thursday afternoon and a general holiday.

TRAGEDY IN VIRGINIA.

Young Lady Killed by Lover Who Takes Own Life.

Lynchburg, Va., May 10.—News reached here today of a murder and suicide Sunday afternoon in Amherst county, 12 miles from this city, when Miss Nellie Banton, was shot and instantly killed by her lover, John Going, who then shot himself, this proving fatal 24 hours later. Jealousy is ascribed as the cause for the deed.

Farmers should eat more oatmeal.

Although the farmer of today is able to buy almost anything he wants to wear or to eat he isn't paying enough attention to food values when it comes to his own table.

If he has been watching the extensive researches and experiments on the question of the best human food for muscle and brain he will heed the advice from all sides to "eat more Quaker Oats."

Quaker Oats is mentioned because it is recognized in this country and Europe as the best of all oatmeals. Feeding farm hands on Quaker Oats means getting more work out of them than if you feed them on anything else.

It is packed in regular size packages, and in hermetically sealed tins for hot climates. 61

DOUBLE MURDERER CAUGHT.

Escaped Negro Convict Arrested at Spartanburg, S. C.

Spartanburg, S. C., May 10.—John Aaron Steel, an escaped negro convict from the State penitentiary at Raleigh, N. C., was arrested here today. Steel is a double murderer and a sentence of 32 years hangs over him. He was convicted of killing a negro named Mitchell in Charlotte, N. C., in 1904 and later, having escaped from prison, killed Walter Haris, colored, in Greensboro, N. C. He had served but a few months on his second sentence when he escaped.
